TRULY JEWELLERY

DISPLAY CABINETS

Displays which blend into the colourscheme

Display Cabinet – The Compleat Angler, Marlow

At The Compleat Angler in Marlow, this elegant wooden corner cabinet blends seamlessly into the hotel's lobby. Its warm finish and subtle lighting create an inviting focal point that enhances the space. Designed for both style and practicality, it offers a refined way to showcase jewellery within a luxury hospitality setting.

Displays which Blend With Historic Interior

Display Cabinet – Coombe Abbey, Warwickshire

Set within the historic surroundings of Coombe Abbey, this display cabinet complements the grandeur of the venue's stone pillars and rich, dark interior features. Its design balances contemporary elegance with heritage charm, blending effortlessly into the atmospheric setting. Ideal for showcasing jewellery or curated collections, it enhances the hotel's character while offering guests a refined visual experience.

Contemporary Feature Display Modern Hotel Setting

Display Cabinet - Melia White House Hotel Regents Park London
This large, contemporary display creates a striking focal point within a spacious hotel environment. With clean lines, light finishes, and a modern aesthetic, it adds brightness and sophistication to the space. Designed to draw attention without overpowering its surroundings, it offers a versatile showcase for jewellery or curated collections, perfectly suited to contemporary hospitality interiors.

Tea Room Restaurant Settings

Display Cabinet – St Mary's Guildhall, Coventry
Positioned against the historic stone walls and floors of St Mary's Guildhall, this small display cabinet adds warmth and charm to its surroundings. Subtle lighting highlights the pieces within, creating a gentle contrast to the building's medieval character. Simple yet refined, it serves as an inviting feature that enhances the atmosphere without detracting from the venue's timeless architecture.
